▼ Department Business Plans

While our strategic plan is our guiding document for the City, each department has a business plan specific to its priorities and services. The business plan supports the City's overall strategic plan, gives the department direction, and helps it realize the City's strategic initiatives. The business plans are representative of each department's goals and objectives and provide a foundation on which it can measure its performance.

- Provide an initiative progress summary to be included in the Performance Report that is shared with City Council and the public.

The initiative team researched engagement practices used by communities that earned recognition from the International City and County Management Association. The City compares to the leading best practices. One of the initiative's deliverables will be a community engagement guidebook that provides departments with evaluation methods for this best practice. In addition, the national IAP2 conference will be in Charlotte, NC, September 4-6, 2019. Staff will have gained valuable opportunities with several videos highlighting Raleigh volunteers.
- List any feedback you would like to request from the Core Team.

The team is always open to recommendations regarding engagement interests.
- What will the team focus on for the next six months?

The team will work with a certified IAP2 (International Association of Public Participation) facilitator to bring this community engagement strategy training to all departments primarily involved in community engagement (Housing and Neighborhoods, Planning, PRCR, Communications, and Police). The training is tentative until further evaluation methods for this best practice. In addition, the national IAP2 conference will be in Charlotte, NC, September 4-6, 2019. Staff will have gained valuable training and will serve as the internal lead trainers to other city staff. They are currently on this team.

This team will collaborate with the new planning engagement coordinator to create a community engagement guidebook that will provide departments with information on how to engage the community.

This team will collaborate with Communications to create a Citizen Advisory Council (CAC) Leadership guide to ensure that CACs leaders are equipped with the tools and resources needed to effectively engage the community.

1. Provide an initiative progress summary to be included in the Performance Report that is shared with City Council and the public.	Dec-18
The initiative team researched engagement practices used by communities that earned recognition from the International City and County Management Association. The various engagement practices have been compiled into a benchmarking report that will be expanded to include how the City compares to the leading best practices. One of the initiative's deliverables will be a community engagement guidebook that provides departments with recommendations for engaging with the community. The initiative team plans to bring IAP2 training to Raleigh for city staff in March 2019. Priority will be placed on departments who are primarily involved in community engagement (Housing and Neighborhoods, Planning, PRCR, Communications, and Police). Additionally, in FY2018 staff enhanced the promotion and coordination of City of Raleigh Volunteer opportunities with several videos highlighting Raleigh volunteers.
2. List any feedback you would like to request from the Core Team.	Dec-18

3. What will the team focus on for the next six months?	Dec-18
The team will work with a certified IAP2 (International Association of Public Participation) facilitator to bring this community engagement strategy training to Raleigh for city staff. 25 city staff members will be identified to take the 3 day training. Priority will be placed on departments who are primarily involved in community engagement (Housing and Neighborhoods, Planning, PRCR, Communications, and Police). The training is tentatively scheduled for March 19-21, 2019. This team will also create a sustainability model to include implementation, framework and evaluation methods for this best practice. In addition, the national IAP2 conference will be in Charlotte, NC, September 4-6, 2019. Staff will have gained an overall knowledge of IAP2 to better equipped to participate in this conference. Currently, 2 staff members in H&N are already trained and will serve as the internal lead trainers to other city staff. They are currently on this team.
This team will collaborate with the new planning engagement coordinator to create a community engagement guidebook that will provide departments with recommendations for engaging with the community.
This team will collaborate with Communications to create a Citizen Advisory Council (CAC) Leadership guide to ensure that CACs leaders are equipped with effective and efficient guidelines to ensure that each CAC is operating on the same accord.

How Raleighites See Raleigh

In late 2016, the City of Raleigh commissioned its first-ever Community Survey to assess residents' opinions on a wide array of community topics and to help refine priorities as part of the City's strategic planning process. The third-party administered survey allows Raleigh to compare many of its results to other large communities. Percentages in the graphic below reflect those answering a 4 or 5 ("good" or "excellent") on a scale of 1 to 5.

Identify, protect, and develop places, traditions, and activities that celebrate Raleigh's history and cultivate innovative and diverse arts, cultural, and tourism opportunities.

ACR 2.5 Arts Community & Local Tech Community

The first pilot of an interactive tech public art installation with community partners was completed in early FY2018. Raleigh Arts, in partnership with the Dorothea Dix Conservancy, hosted eight events in Dix Park to see, hear, and play a large-scale light and sound interactive installation. Over 13,000 people attended the events. Seventeen musicians collaborated with the artist and programmer by syncing their musical compositions with the Moog technology and programming to create a unique light show that coordinated sound.

Performing Arts Center Events and Attendance

Convention Center Events and Attendance

Red Hat Amphitheater Events and Attendance

From recent meet and greet events, staff found that the Raleigh art community has gaps in access and education to new technologies and the understanding of how to find opportunities for collaboration with creatives working in other fields. Staff has begun meeting with several potential partners who can assist in closing these gaps.

ACR Explore Public-Private Partnership for a Unified Arts & Culture Foundation

Keeping with the initiative's intent to explore the feasibility of establishing a unified arts and culture foundation, staff held exploratory meetings with outside feasibility consultants and key stakeholders. Staff determined that a unified arts and cultural foundation was not feasible or sensible for the City of Raleigh at this time. The initiative was successfully completed and subsequently removed from the Strategic Plan.

Strategic Plan

A solid foundation for an intentional future

Transparent. Focused. Aware.

Raleigh's Strategic Plan is a formal document adopted by City Council that translates vision and goals into an actionable strategy that guides the organization's focus, work, and resource alignment. It is a collaborative effort that is led by City Council's vision and leadership, influenced by resident feedback obtained from the biennial Community Survey, reflective of staff contributions, and appropriately aligned with other important efforts such as the 2030 Comprehensive Plan.

The Strategic Plan's six overarching key focus areas and underlying objectives, initiatives, and performance measures allow the City to be transparent about its goals, focused in its efforts, and aware of its results.
